David:

I just talked with Lonestar Ecology and they indicated that they have prepared a concrete pad on their facility and are still very interested in the used oil tanks located on the CES facility. In order for this to be facilitated, the tanks would have to be hydro-blast cleaned according to TCEQ requirements in order to meet the TCEQ tank closure requirements.

Also, I talked with the PRP Group contractor and was told that Lubrizol did not immediately have plans to address these tanks. I was hoping that you guys could talk with Lubrizol and Lonestar Ecology to expedite the closure and off-site removal of these tanks from the CES property. I believe these significant and active on-site actions will show the community that you guys are working together to get this site addressed as quickly as possible.

I continue to receive calls from the community and from Representative Sheila Jackson Lee. They remain concerned about the property and how quickly items will be addressed.

Also, anything that you can provide to me on an ongoing basis on how things are progressing from the bankruptcy trustee perspective would be beneficial. I will be receiving the monthly reports from the PRP Group (First one due July 10).

I was told that all you may need to do is tell Lubrizol that you have someone that want the Used Oil Tanks and they may be willing to move forward on the clean closure requirements so they can be moved off-site.

Thanks
